VOL. XLI., No. 12.

NEW YORK, March 19, 1892.

WHOLE No. 1051.

D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

PSYCHOLOGY APPLIED TO THE ART OF TEACHING.

By JOSEPH BALDWIN, A.M., LL.D., author of "Art of School Management," etc. Vol. XIX. of the International Education Series. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"The hope of producing a book helpful to the great brotherhood of teachers inspired this volume. During four decades these chapters have been given as lessons to many classes of teachers. The practical results in a thousand schools have been observed with intense interest. From year to year, in the light of experience and study and criticism, these lessons have been remodelled. They are now submitted in the form which seems to the author best calculated to aid teachers in preparing themselves for their great work."—From the Preface.

A TEXT-BOOK OF NURSING.

For the use of Training-Schools, Families and Private Students. Compiled by CLARA S. WEEKS-SHAW, Graduate of the New York Hospital Training-School, and formerly Superintendent of Training-School for Nurses, Paterson, N. J. Illustrated. Revised and enlarged edition. 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

"Contains an amount of good sense and clearly expressed information that rarely is found between the covers of one book of its kind. . . . Besides being indexed, and having a glossary of unaccustomed words, it is followed by a copious body of questions that emphasize and give point to the teaching."—The Nation.

MARRIAGE AND DISEASE.

A Study of Heredity and the More Important Family Degenerations. By S. A. K. STRAHAN, M.D. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

The author believes that the doctrine of hereditary transmission of family characters, pathological as well as physiological, has by no means been accorded the general recognition which its importance demands. It is his object to present in this volume a popular consideration of the laws of heredity in various aspects, especially as they concern the tendency to physical degeneration by ill-assorted marriages.

MANUAL OF CHEMICAL TECHNOLOGY.

By RUDOLF VON WAGNER, translated and edited by William Crookes, F.R.S., from the thirteenth enlarged German edition. With 596 illustrations. 8vo, cloth, $7.50.

The present English version differs so widely from that which appeared in 1872 that it may be regarded as substantially a new work. It is founded on the thirteenth German edition of 1888, brought out by Dr. Ferdinand Fischer, and remodelled in accordance with the many important changes which have been recently effected in chemical industry.

MY GUARDIAN.

By ADA CAMBRIDGE, author of "The Three Miss Kings," "Not All in Vain," etc. Illustrated. No. 89, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

"A story which will, from first to last, enlist the sympathies of the reader by its simplicity of style and fresh genuine feeling. . . . The author is au fait at the delineation of character."—Boston Transcript.

"An interesting English story of 'The Fen Country.' It is a novel out of the usual order. The reader will be absorbed in the fortunes and history it records, and the easy, graceful style of the author will be found thoroughly enjoyable."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"The dénouement is all that the most ardent romance-reader could desire."—Chicago Evening Journal.

HOLLAND FICTION SERIES.

ELINE VERE.

By LOUIS COUPERUS. Translated from the Dutch by J. T. Grein. With an introduction by Edmund Gosse. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

Eline Vere, a work crowned by the Dutch Academy, is a story of modern life in The Hague. It is the first novel in the Holland Fiction Series announced by D. Appleton & Co., a series which will present the choicest results of the modern literary revival in Holland.

In offering this series to American readers the publishers feel that they are opening a field of profit and enjoyment as distinctive and as fresh as the fields of Russian fiction and of Spanish fiction twelve years ago.

D. APPLETON & CO., 1, 3 and 5 Bond Street, New York.

A BOOK THAT WILL SELL.

JUST PUBLISHED:

"The Mediterranean Shores of America;"

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

ITS CLIMATIC, PHYSICAL AND METEOROLOGICAL CONDITIONS.

Member of the American Medical Association, and of the State Board of Health of California, Vice-President of the California State Medical Society, and of the Southern California Medical Society, etc., etc.

In one handsomely printed octavo volume of 175 pages, with 45 appropriate illustrations, and two finely executed maps of the region showing Altitude, Ocean Currents, etc. Extra cloth, $1.25 net; paper edition, 75 cents net.

As a climatological treatise on "OUR ITALY"—a name so felicitously given this charming region by Charles Dudley Warner—this is a truly valuable and useful handbook for the constantly increasing number of individuals who are seeking accurate and interesting information upon this world-famous resort.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

A POPULAR EDITION

OF THE

HISTORY OF CIRCUMCISION:

FROM THE

EARLIEST TIMES TO THE PRESENT.

Moral and Physical Reasons for Its Performance.

WITH A

HISTORY OF EUNUCHISM, HERMAPHRODISM, ETC., AS OBSERVED AMONG ALL RACES AND NATIONS; ALSO A DESCRIPTION OF THE DIFFERENT OPERATIVE METHODS OF MODERN SURGERY PRACTISED UPON THE PREPUCE.

By P. C. REMONDINO, M.D. (Jefferson).

In one 12mo volume of over 350 pages, bound in extra Paper Cover, 50 cents, net; Physician's Edition, bound in extra Dark-blue Cloth, $1.25, net.

The volume is illustrated with two rare fine wood-engravings showing the two principal modes of Circumcision in ancient times.

 This work is peculiarly important and timely, as the Jewish question is being thoroughly discussed in the "Forum" and other periodicals. The ultimate results of the present persecutions and exodus in Russia will materially affect the populations of the United States and England. Read this book and learn the physical and racial exemptions to disease the Jewish race enjoys, and why that in the vital scale they are superior to other races.

CONSUMPTION!

How to Prevent It and How to Live with It.

ITS NATURE, CAUSES, PREVENTION, AND THE MODE OF LIFE, CLIMATE, EXERCISE, FOOD AND CLOTHING, NECESSARY FOR ITS CURE.

By N. S. DAVIS, Jr., A.M., M.D.,

Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine in Chicago Medical College, etc., etc.

A plain, practical treatise, thoroughly readable and scientifically accurate. 12mo, 143 pages, extra cloth, 75 cents net.

THE ST. LOUIS WEEKLY MEDICAL REVIEW says: "He is very thorough in his discussion of the subject, and the practical hints which he gives are of real worth and value. His directions are given in such a manner as to make life enjoyable to a consumptive patient and not a burden, as is too frequently the case."

NOTES IN SEASON.

WORTHINGTON CO. will publish at once in their Rose Library a story entitled "Some Children of Adam," by R. M. Manley.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish immediately a new book by Joel Chandler Harris "On the Plantation," much of which is said to be autobiographical in character and which will also contain fresh stories of the immortal Brer Rabbit and his companions. To their Town and Country Library they have added "The Story of Philip Methuen," by Mrs. J. H. Needell.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish shortly a new volume by Rev. F. B. Meyer, entitled "The Life and Light of Men," which is an exposition of John i: 12. Their Christian Life Series, by the same author, has been issued for the Easter season in white vellum cloth. They have also added to their catalogue "The Life Beyond," an allegory adapted from Mrs.

Prosser by Mrs. M. A. Talbott. "The Life of Spurgeon," by J. J. Ellis, which was to be published late in the fall and before the preacher's death, is now being revised so as to make the biography complete. It will appear in a few weeks.

B. WESTERMANN & Co. have just ready a "Pictorial Atlas to Homer's Iliad and Odyssey." The volume contains thirty-six plates giving 225 illustrations from works of ancient art, with descriptive text, and an epitome of the contents of each book for the use of schools and students of literature and art, by Dr. R. Engelmann and Prof. W. C. F. Anderson. They are now ready to supply Dr. Felix Flügel's "English-German and German-English Dictionary" complete in three volumes. The dictionary is a monument of patient, honest, scholarly work that will be welcomed by all engaged in the scientific study of the English and German languages, as well as by the business man. It now supersedes Lucas, Hilpert, Grieb and all former editions of J. G. Flügel's larger dictionary.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish on the 26th "A Day at Laguerre's, and Other Days," by F. Hopkinson Smith. This is a collection of graphic bits of travel and descriptive sketches, gotten up in a thoroughly dainty style, with decorative title border and initials, and a new colophon, by Walter Crane. Besides the popular editions of this book, there is to be an Artists' Edition, limited to 250 copies, printed on Dutch handmade paper and brought out with the perfection of mechanical detail. Other books soon to be issued are: "San Salvador," by Mary Agnes Tincker, the description of an ideal country—a blessed land "where it is always afternoon"—written with a strong religious undercurrent; "The Unseen Friend," a little Easter volume, by Lucy Larcom, on the nearness of God to man; a collection of discourses, by Samuel R. Fuller, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Malden, Mass., entitled "Personality," and a new dollar edition of "The House of the Seven Gables."

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in press for early publication: "A Manual of Musical History," by James E. Matthew, profusely illustrated; "The Art of Golf," by Sir W. G. Simpson, containing many illustrations of that fascinating sport, and issued in companion form to Anderson's treatise on "Horsemanship." "Tales of King Arthur and His Knights," by Margaret Vere Farrington, brought out by the Putnams two years ago, is now to be republished as one of the series issued by the Publication Committee of the American Association of Instructors of the Blind, printed in raised letters. In the Story of the Nations Series the next volume in readiness will be "The Byzantine Empire," by C. W. Oman; and in the Heroes of the Nation Series, "Wiclif and the English Reformation," by Lewis Sergeant; "Louis XIV.," by Arthur Hassall; and "Napoleon," by W. O'Connor Morris. "Who Pays Your Taxes?" a discussion of the question of taxation by David A. Wells, Thomas G. Shearman, Joseph Dana Miller, Bolton Hall and others, will be No. 71 in the Question of the Day Series. Other volumes in preparation are "Earth-Burial and Cremation," a consideration of the advantages of the latter practice, by Augustus G. Cobb; "The End of Time," a poem by L. G. Barbour; and "Cardiac Outlines," an illustrated technical treatise on phases of heart disease, by William Ewart, M.D.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. 4to: under 30 cm.; O. (8vo: 25 cm.) D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Arnold, Sir Edwin. Potiphar's wife, and other poems. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1892. 4+127 p. S. cl., $1.25.

In the glowing imagery of the Orient the author of "The light of Asia" tells the story of Aseneth, wife of Potiphar, and presents the sentiment and incident of Egypt and Japan with the more prosaic topic and scene of other lands. Our own America is the subject of one of the poems.

Ashley, Clarence D. Contracts: extracts, citations, condensed cases and statement, prepared for the use of students in the metropolis law-school. N. Y., P. F. Mc-Breen, pr., 1892. c. 83 p. O. cl., $1.

I., Conn., and Pa.; court of errors and appeals, court of chancery, and supreme and prerogative courts of N. J.; court of errors and appeals and court of chancery of Del., and court of appeals of Md. Permanent ed., July 8-Dec. 16, 1891; with table of Atlantic cases in which rehearings have been denied, and tables of Atlantic cases published in v. 59, Conn. reports; 83, Me. reports; 73, Md. reports; 47, N. J. equity reports; 139-142, Pa. state reports; 16, R. I. reports; 62, Vt. reports. St. Paul, West Pub. Co., 1892. c. 17+1239 p. O. (National reporter system, state ser.) shp., $4.

Baker, S. T. Fort Sumter and its defenders: an illustrated poem in eleven cantos. Buffalo, N. Y., C: W. Moulton, 1892. c. 64 p. 8°, por. cl., $1.

Berry, J. L. Linked with fate. Chic., H. J. Smith & Co., 1892. c. 12-228 p. il. D. (Silver ser., v. 2, no. 3.) pap., 25 c.

At a juncture in his life where he expected great happiness Dudley Warren was the victim of an accident that made his past a blank. He identifies himself as another man, whose name he takes. Unconsciously he reproduces some of the scenes he has lived in, and this is the means by which fate brings about a reunion and an unlooked-for event.

Bien, H. M. (Rabbi.) Ben-Beor: a story of the Anti-Messiah, in two divisions; a companion romance to Sue's "Wandering Jew." Balt., Md., Press of I: Friedenwald Co., 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 7+528 p. D. cl., subs., $2.

Through the mysterious personage and action of Baalam Ben-Beor, a historical novel covering a cycle of over two thousand years is told. Pt. 1, "The lunar intaglios," is introductory; in it the Anti-Messiah is seen as a disturber of the inhabitants of the moon.

Pt. 2 is descriptive, and brings out historical and religious episodes, such as the attack of the Talmud, the Reformation, etc. In the downfall of the conspirator the position of the Jews in the ideal millennium is shown.

Blackwell, Sarah Ellen. A military genius: life of Anna Ella Carroll, of Maryland; ("The great unrecognized member of Lincoln's cabinet;") comp. from family records and congressional documents. Wash., D. C., S. E. Blackwell, 1710 F st., [1892.] 16+168 p. S. cl., $1.10.

On August 29, 1815, Anna Ella Carroll was born at Kingston, Maryland. Her early life was passed chiefly in her father's excellent library, and her education was to him a constant delight. Many letters of Miss Carroll are given, which show how early she interested herself in politics, and how accurately posted she was on all the leading questions of her day. She was the daughter of Governor Carroll, and from the breaking out of the Rebellion was loyally devoted to the Northern cause. Her writings gained the attention of Lincoln. The author claims Miss Carroll is entitled to government recognition of her great services in planning military movements. She also says documents testifying to this have been wilfully suppressed in the government catalogue.

Blomfield, Reginald, and Thomas, F. Inigo. The formal garden in England. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 12+244 p. 12°, cl., $3.

Brandt, Rev. J. L. Marriage and the home. Chic., Laird & Lee, 1892. c. 3+262 p. por. D. (Pastime ser., no. 72.) pap., 25 c.

The author claims that matrimony is a divinely appointed institution, and aims to bring young people of both sexes to a consideration and investigation of the subject. In a number of brief sketches he views it religiously, socially and politically, and supports his argument by introducing the testimony of those who have made his subject a special study.

Browné, Sir F. Religio medici, and other essays; ed. with introd. by D. Lloyd Roberts, M.D. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 48+428 p. 12°, (Stott lib.) cl., 75 c.

Chute, Rev. Arthur C. William Carey: a sketch of beginnings in modern missions; read before the Baptist ministers of Chicago and published at the request of the conference; with prefatory note by E. B. Hulbert, D.D. Chic., Goodman & Dickerson, [republished from the Standard,] 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 58 p. T. flex. cl., 25 c.

In this brief biography Carey is seen as a pioneer of an important religious movement, and some facts of mission history are given. The time is from 1761-1834.

Colbert, E. Humanity in its origin and early growth. Chic., The Open Court Pub. Co., 1892. c. 2+409 p. D. cl., $1.50.

In this scientific study of the development of humanity, the author follows the progress of mankind from its evolution from the lower organisms through the primeval period and stone age to early civilization and government, endeavoring "to trace out a few of the salient points in the early unfolding of man and his thought, principally in those ages which preceded the writing of history." The subject is lucidly handled

Flick, Taylor. The three circuits: a study of the primary forces. Wash., D. C., pub. by the author, Taylor Flick, 1892. 16+268 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

In the survey of these forces there is an idea involved that the sun and earth united form a colossal dynamo, and that this is the motor that produces atmospheric change and scientific phenomena. In brief, the aim is to bring out the theory that electricity is the direct cause of physical fact. Space is given to the action of science in the creation and development of animal life.

Finch, J. A. Digest of insurance cases, embracing the decisions of the supreme and circuit courts of the U. S., of the supreme and appellate courts of the various states and foreign countries, upon disputed points in fire, life, marine, [etc.] insurance, [etc.] Ref. to annot. ins. cases in editorials in law journals on insurance cases for the year ending Oct. 31, 1891. Gotten up as an Easter souvenir.

Hanslick, E. The beautiful in music: a contribution to the revival of musical æsthetics; tr. by Gustav Cohen. N. Y., Novello, Ewer & Co., 1891. 174 p. 12°, cl., $2.

"I take up the cudgels," says the writer, "against those æsthetic enthusiasts who, though presuming to teach the musician, in reality only dilate upon their tinkling opium dream. I am quite at one with those who hold that the ultimate worth of the beautiful must ever depend upon the immediate verdict of the feelings. But at the same time I firmly adhere to the conviction that all the customary appeals to our emotional faculty can never show the way to a single musical law."

Harper, C. G. English pen artists of to-day: examples of their work, with some criticisms and appreciations. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 22+297 p. 4°, cl., $20.

Hempstead, Junius L. Parnassian niches. Buffalo, N. Y., C. Wells Moulton, 1892. c. '91. 7+172 p. por. S. cl., $1.

Poems, some of which have mythological subjects, others tell of life's gains and losses; among these, one voices the sentiment of the collection; it is "Dum vivimus, vivamus."

Henslow, Rev. G. The making of flowers. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., 1891 [1892.] 3-168 p. S. (Romance of science ser.) cl., $1.

The romance of science, the series to which this volume belongs, aims to show "that science has for the masses as great interest as, and more edification than, the romances of the day." The author's method of explaining the facts and phenomena of the flower-world is particularly graphic.

Herkomer, Hubert. Etching and mezzotint engraving: lectures delivered at Oxford. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 107 p. f., cl., $16.

Ingersoll, Rob. G., and others. The great Ingersoll controversy, beginning with the celebrated "Christmas sermon:" a battle between the infidel orator and his friends and Dr. J. M. Buckley and other distinguished champions of Christianity. N. Y., J. Buckley, 1892. 16°, pap., 10 c.

Ingersoll, Rob. G. Memorial oration on Roscoe Conkling. [Also,] Chauncey M. Depew's oration at the Grant anniversary. N. Y., J. Buckley, 1892. 16°, pap., 10 c.

Jones, Alonzo T. Two republics; or, Rome and the United States of America. Battle Creek, Mich., Review and Herald Pub. Co., 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 3-895 p. por. O. cl., $2.50, $3; hf. mor., $3.50; mor., $4.

The author is editor of the American Sentinel, devoted to the defence of American institutions, the preservation of the Constitution of the United States as it is, so far as regards religion or religious tests. In 1888 Mr. Jones vigorously opposed Senator Blair's Sunday-rest bill. The present volume appeals to the nation to oppose any movement "to commit the United States Government to a course of religious legislation," for should this succeed "so surely will there be repeated the history of Rome in the fourth and fifth centuries."

Jonson, B: Timber; or, discoveries made upon men and matter; ed. with introd. and notes by Felix E. Schelling. Bost., Ginn & Co., 1892. c. 35+166 p. D. cl., 60 c.

Except for change in punctuation, the plan is that of the edition of 1641. The present work, however, differs from Whalley, Gifford, Cunningham and Morley. These differences, with references, are found in a plentiful annotation. There is included a biographical sketch of Jonson and an analysis and index of proper names. Arranged for students.

Julian, J. J., ed. Dictionary of hymnology, setting forth the origin and history of Christian hymns of all ages and nations; with special reference to those contained in the hymn-books of English-speaking countries, and now in common use; with biographical and critical notices of their authors and translators, and historical articles on national and denominational hymnology, breviaries, missals, primers, psalters, sequences, etc. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1892. c. '91. 12+1616 p. O. cl., net, $10.

It is claimed that 200 or more languages and dialects are represented in Christian hymnology, and estimated that in these not less than 400,000 hymns have been written or translated. Effort is made to give a comprehensive but concise outline of them. Relative matter is chronologically arranged.

Kenyon, Ja. B. At the gate of dreams: poems. Buffalo, N. Y., C: Wells Moulton, 1892. c. 2-330 p. S. cl., $1.50.

These poems treat of love, joy, sorrow and some of nature's wonders.

Sotheran, C: Horace Greeley and other pioneers of American socialism. N. Y., The Humboldt Pub. Co., [1892.] c. 14+343 p. D. (Social science lib., no. 9.) pap., 35 c.

The work is neither strictly biographical nor distinctively sociological, but both. Horace Greeley is considered as a representative American socialist for the purpose of making clear facts of sociology, which, the author claims, to carry out this idea, is a comparatively unknown science. Greeley's contemporaries, later-day political reformers, notable authors and prominent capitalists, with political methods, are introduced. Among these are William Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Edward Bellamy, the Vanderbilts and Jay Gould. The abolition movement is discussed.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MARCH 19, 1892.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The next important reason is that the Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY forms the basis of "The American Catalogue" and so the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE NEWSDEALERS' SUPPLY ASSOCIATION.

THE NEWSDEALERS' SUPPLY ASSOCIATION, incorporated in Brooklyn on the 11th of February, has started out with the avowed intention of carrying on an effective warfare against the various causes which have so materially cut down the profits of newsdealers within the last few years. The company believes that the presence of middlemen, either individually or as companies, in the news trade, is most injurious in its effects, and the eradication of this phase of the business is one of their foremost objects. They propose also to carry on a vigorous campaign against the "combine" which the principal New York morning papers formed a few years ago by increasing their prices simultaneously and allowing no increase in profit, though the trade had to invest 100 per cent. more capital than formerly. It has for some time been the belief of many interested in the business that it was possible for the trade to combine and form a company for the handling of their own papers, and that the commissions which have been paid to middlemen in the past would meet all expenses incurred and leave a fair margin for profit on capital invested, while an organization on these lines would benefit both the news trade and the publishers, as they would be drawn into closer connection with each other and would not be obliged to transact their business through the medium of a third party. It was with the intention of carrying out the plans above outlined that articles were filed in the office of the Secretary of State, at Albany, on February 23, incorporating the Newsdealers'

Supply Association, for a duration of fifty years, with a capital of $7500, under the directorship of P. J. McGrath, John R. Suter, Thomas Lunt, Daniel Sheen, Geo. H. Cowell, P. J. Barry, Joseph Monzani, Thomas Shelly and Henry C. Schalter, the purpose of said corporation being "to carry on the business of publishing, buying, selling and dealing in books, newspapers and periodicals, owning or controlling hotel or depot news-stands; selling newspapers or periodicals on horse cars or steam cars, or on steamboats or ferries," etc.

If rightly managed, and conducted on a conservative basis until success is assured, there is no valid reason why this association should not be able to carry out its aims and effect a decided change for the better in the condition of the news trade.

SAN FRANCISCO shippers have lately been airing their grievances as regards the nearly exclusive shipping of freight by railroads and the consequent maintenance of high rates. They claim that many shippers who desire to avail themselves of steamship transportation are prevented from so doing by the action of the Transcontinental Railway Association in paying the Pacific Mail Steamship Line $75,000 a month to maintain rates and let the traffic of the railroads severely alone. This grievance is of long standing, as it is asserted that ever since 1877 there has been a contract between the railway lines forming the Transcontinental Association and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, having for its object the maintenance of rates on such a basis as to prevent anything like competition in overland traffic. The Traffic Association of San Francisco has taken the matter up vigorously, and intends to keep up the fight until they have placed the common carriers by land and water on a competitive footing. The campaign has been opened by Senator Felton, who has prepared a bill providing for the withdrawal of the government subsidy paid the Pacific Mail Company for carrying the Chinese and Central American mails, on the ground that the Mail Company has entered into contracts with the railway companies which are against public policy. The subject is of vital importance to the book trade of the Pacific coast, and deserves attention as well in the East, as naturally what concerns the consumer must affect the producer.

JUDGE SHIPMAN's decision in the case of Merriam vs. Texas Siftings Publishing Co. is commendable, chiefly because it tends to the protection of legitimate literary property and the security of the publishing business. Incidentally, of course, it tends as well to the protection and security of the general public against imposition.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS IN RELATION TO BOOKS, ETC.

THE summary statement of the imports and exports of the United States for the month ending January 31, 1892, and for the seven months ending the same, compared with the corresponding periods of 1891 (corrected to February 27, 1892), makes the following showing as regards books, etc.:

THE BOOK OF THE AUTHORS' CLUB

So many erroneous and premature statements having been circulated concerning a proposed publication by the Authors' Club, Mr. Rossiter Johnson, the Secretary of the Club, has felt called upon to explain that the facts are as follows:

The Authors' Club has determined to publish a book made up of stories, essays, poems and sketches written specially for it by members of the Club. The contributions will probably number 100, or perhaps more. A few members of the Club are artists as well as authors, and have been requested to illustrate their own articles. There may be other illustrations in the form of head and tail pieces, and the book will be printed sumptuously. The edition will be limited to 251 copies (numbered)—one for the club's own library, the other 250 for sale to subscribers. There will be no other edition. Each author's article, in every copy of the book, will be signed by him with pen and ink. The subscription price is $1.00. The Executive Council of the Club, which has not yet taken final action on this item, may reserve the right to increase the price after the first hundred copies have been subscribed for. The original manuscripts will be bound up by themselves and sold to the highest bidder.

More than a hundred members of the Club, including the best-known authors in the country, have definitely promised to contribute; and about fifty of the manuscripts are already in the hands of the committee having the matter in charge. Among these fifty are articles by Poultney Bigelow, Elbridge S. Brooks, Andrew Carnegie, John D. Champlin, Jr., John Vance Cheney, Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), Moncure D. Conway, George Cary Eggleston, Harold Frederic, Richard Watson Gilder, Parke Godwin, Arthur Sherburne Hardy, Henry Harland (Sidney Lusk), John Hay, Laurence Hutton, James B. Kenyon, Thomas W. Knox, James M. Ludlow, Albert Mathews, Brander Matthews, William S. Mayo, James Herbert Morse, Charles Ledyard Norton, Horace Porter, David L. Proudfit, Theodore Roosevelt, Clinton Scollard, Horace E. Scudder, William J. Stillman, Oscar S. Straus, William S. Walsh, William Hayes Ward, George E. Waring, Jr., and Charles Dudley Warner. The other fifty are expected soon, so that the committee can put the book together this spring, carry it slowly and carefully through the press in the summer, and deliver it in the autumn. It is expected that it will have the advantage of all the typographic skill in the De Vinne Press, as the head of that establishment is himself an author and a member of the Club.

COPYRIGHT TREATY WITH CANADA.

IN the Canadian Parliament, on the 14th inst., Mr. Bowers, of Nova Scotia, inquired whether it is the intention of the government to arrange a reciprocity of copyright with the Government of the United States at an early period. Sir John Thompson replied in the negative. He said Canada gives sufficient facilities to foreigners, and as the United States had taken action on the copyright question, no necessity existed for Canada to adopt new legislation.

THE WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY CONTROVERSY.

JUDGE SHIPMAN, of the United States Circuit Court, has filed a decision in the case of Merriam vs. Texas Siftings Publishing Company. The defendant had advertised and sold as a premium for subscriptions to its weekly paper a reprint of the 1847 edition of Webster's Dictionary. The Judge said: "The gist of this case consists in the fact that the defendant, in its attempt to sell the book, made free and ingenious use of misrepresentations which were intended and calculated to mislead the public into the belief that the book was the one which had long been produced and sold by the plaintiff, and that such was the natural effect of the defendant's advertisements cannot be doubted."

The Judge grants an injunction "against the circulation or use of advertisements or circulars which tend to misrepresent the character of the Ogilvie (defendant's) edition of Webster's Dictionary, or lead the public into the belief that it is a reproduction of a modern edition of that work," and requires that hereafter "each book delivered by it or its agents shall contain a notice by printed slips attached to the title-page that it is a reprint of the edition of 1847 of Webster's Dictionary, with a list of the additions that have been made thereto and which the book contains."

PUBLISHERS' CARDS FOR "BULK-RATE" MAIL MATTER.

AT a recent meeting of the postmasters in Washington the suggestion was made to issue a card or book, on which are printed numbers, representing pounds, which numbers may be punched out to correspond with the weight of second-class mail matter. This is designed for the use of publishers who mail their journals at the rates fixed for them, and renders the use of receipt blanks and stubs at the end of each quarter unnecessary. The scheme is similar to that in the use of railway companies who sell commutation tickets, only the stub is added. The stub is retained by the purchaser as his receipt after all the pound numbers are punched out, and the used slip is taken up by the postal clerk, and held by him to keep his accounts straight. The practicability of the suggestion will be tested at the Philadelphia office.

SOCIETY OF AMERICAN AUTHORS.

A SOCIETY of American Authors, on lines similar to the British and French societies of the same name, is proposed by Charles Burr Todd, who has set forth the grievances of American authors in a paper in the March Forum. The first meeting is to be held privately in New York on or before May 1, and when one hundred members are enrolled the society will be organized at once. Its objects are extension of copyright, abolition of letter-rate postage on mss., amendment of international copyright law, and the adoption in America of the French statutes in regard to literary property. All persons who have written a book or are engaged in writing for the press are eligible to membership. Walter Besant is interested in the movement, and promises the support of the British Society of Authors.

RECENT TARIFF DECISIONS.

BOOKS IN FOREIGN LANGUAGES IN WHICH ENGLISH WORDS OCCUR.

In the case of George W. Reed vs. the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, the Collector was sustained. Mr. Reed on October 20, 1891, imported a lot of 100 copies of the New Testament, printed entirely in the Chinese language (upon which duty was assessed through error), and 1000 hymn-books, with preface, the title of each hymn and the tune being printed in English and the remainder in Chinese. Duty was assessed at 25 per cent. ad valorem under paragraph 423 N. T., and the goods were claimed by appellants to be free under paragraph 513 for books and pamphlets printed exclusively in languages other than English.

E. DE LOZADA & Co., on May 25, 1891, imported a consignment of "Spanish Grammars," on which duty was assessed at 25 per cent. by the Collector at New York, because several sentences referring to the copyright, etc., appeared in English. The importers claimed free entry for books printed in any language other than English. The protest was sustained.

THE DAILY PAPERS OF PARIS.

From Pearson's Weekly.

It is a curious fact that daily newspapers almost suffice for the reading appetite of the French public. Compared with that of the news-sheets, the circulation of the weekly, fortnightly and monthly periodicals is very small. France is not a great reading country. In round numbers the population may be set down as 38,000,000, out of which 6,000,000 only are newspaper readers, if we may believe the statistics, whose conclusions are based upon the total average circulation of all the newspapers published in France. If we reckon newspapers and periodicals of all kinds and on all subjects published in France, whether weekly or otherwise, we shall find that Paris produces 1500, and the departments and colonies about 2500. If we analyze these numbers, we shall find forty daily political papers in Paris, and about double the number of daily political papers published in the great towns, like Bordeaux, Marseilles, Lyons, Lille, Nantes, Havre. In order to reach the figures of 200 papers published in France, we should be obliged to include very small sheets whose circulation is less than 1000 copies a day. The greatest French newspaper is Le Petit Journal, for, supposing that we take its circulation, varying between 900,000 and 950,000, and supposing that each copy is read by three or four persons—which is a low average—we may safely say that this paper is read by half the reading population of France. Next in circulation to the Petit Journal come the Petit Parisien and La Lanterne, with daily circulations exceeding 100,000 copies. The largest provincial circulations are those for five centimes—answering to our half-penny papers—Le Petit Lyonnais and Le Petit Marseillais. Each sells about 70,000 copies a day. All these papers are splendid enterprises. For instance, the annual profit of Le Petit Parisien is not less than £20,000, while that of Le Petit Journal is nearly ten times that sum. Le Figaro is published at fifteen centimes, and is the only Parisian paper at that price that can be quoted as a fine enterprise. Even now, although its circulation is 10,000 or 15,000 less than it was three years ago, the annual profits of

Le Figaro amount to £20,000. The Gil Blas (circulation 30,000) is a paying concern. The most serious and well-informed of all the French papers, Le Temps, barely gives a profit at all. Among the ten-centimes papers, Le Matin (circulation 60,000) is beginning to pay fairly. But, with these exceptions, there is not much newspaper property in Paris worth coveting. How the minor newspapers manage to live is a mystery, but a mystery only to those who are unfamiliar with the fascination which newspaper ownership possesses for the vain and for the ambitious, for financial speculators, and for political intriguers. To sum up once more we may say there are two leading papers in France, Le Petit Journal and Le Figaro, the former appealing to the great populace, the latter appealing to the upper classes. The publicity of Le Figaro is all-powerful; it is a speaking-trumpet whose sounds re-echo through Europe—a fact which enables the triumvirate which now presides over its destinies to sell short puffs on the first page for nearly £2 a line, and to charge a publisher, for instance, £200 for a leading article by [the late] Albert Wolff on a new book which he may desire to push. The system may be reprehensible, but it helps to account for the profits of the paper; and, above all, from an advertising point of view, the money thus spent is well invested, for the publicity of Le Figaro brings in a sure return. In all matters where criticism comes into play, the influence of Le Figaro is incalculable. The dramatic author whose piece receives favorable notice in the Figaro need not heed the remarks of the other Paris journals. "If I can only count upon Figaro and Gil Blas," says the novelist who brings out a new volume, "I don't care a continental for the rest."

OBITUARY NOTES.

WILLIAM T. PRATT, well known through his connection with the firm of Baker, Pratt & Co., died in Brooklyn, N. Y., on the 11th inst., aged forty-four years. Mr. Pratt was born in New York City, and was a nephew of Henry Z. Pratt, of the old firm of Robinson, Pratt & Co., who established themselves as jobbers in New York in 1835, and who were the pioneers of the present house of The Baker & Taylor Co.* Mr. W. T.

* D. Robinson & Co., of Hartford, Conn., sixty or seventy years ago, were the largest school-book publishers in this country. Henry Z. Pratt at that time was their chief clerk. In 1835 they removed to New York City and established their business in Pearl Street, opposite Holt's (now the United States) Hotel, under the firm-name of Robinson, Pratt & Co., which soon became one of the largest jobbing houses in the country. In 1843, Mr. Robinson retiring from the business to become the President of the Hartford Bank, the firm was succeeded by Pratt, Woodford & Co., the members being Henry Z. Pratt, O. P. Woodford, Elijah P. Farmer and T. K. Brace, which firm in turn became Farmer, Brace & Co., the same individuals comprising the firm with the addition of James S. Oakley (now the New York representative of L. Prang & Co.). On Mr. Farmer's sudden death the firm was changed to Pratt, Oakley & Co. In 1862 Mr. Birdseye Blakeman (later of the firm of Ivison, Blakeman & Co.), in connection with Albert Mason, became the successors of Pratt, Oakley & Co., under the firm-name of Blakeman & Mason. In 1864 Mr. Blakeman retired, when a new firm was formed under the style of Oakley & Mason, Mr. Oakley bringing with him the good-will of the old concern with which he had been so long connected. In 1872 Mr. Oakley retired from the firm, which then became Mason, Baker & Pratt. Mr. Mason having died, the firm in 1875 became Baker, Pratt & Co., the members being James S. Baker, W. T. Pratt, Charles D. Pratt and Robert L. Boyd. On the retirement of W. T. Pratt the firm became Baker & Taylor, and in 1888 the firm was incorporated as The Baker & Taylor Company.

Pratt was admitted to the firm of Oakley & Mason in 1868, at the same time that Mr. James S. Baker became a partner. He remained with the firm until 1886, when he retired to engage in a banking business.

PROF. JOHN CAIRNS is dead. He was born near Ayton, Scotland, in 1813. In 1879 he became Principal of Edinburgh College. He was a prolific writer on religious and theological topics. Among his published works are: "Unbelief in the Eighteenth Century," "Miracles: Christ the Central Evidence of Christianity" and "Is the Evolution of Christianity from Mere Natural Sources Credible?" He also wrote for many reviews, and a large number of his sermons have been printed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

IMPORTATION OF COPYRIGHT BOOKS.

KANSAS CITY, MO., March 11, 1892.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly:

A CUSTOMER of ours wants to know if an English edition of a book can be imported into this country, when the English publisher has secured copyright for an edition to be published in America.

[Copyright books may be imported only by and with the consent of the proprietor of the copyright of such books, and under such conditions as he chooses to impose.—ED. P. W.]

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

EX-QUEEN NATALIE is said to be making an effort to procure the publication of her diary.

MRS. BESANT is about to publish a small volume of blood-curdling ghost-stories by the late Mme. Blavatsky. They are to be called "Nightmare Tales."

"The popular novelist, Mrs. Forrester, will shortly," says the London World, "break a silence of five years by the publication of a new book, to be entitled 'Of the World, Worldly.'"

J. A. FROUDE has in preparation a new volume collected from several magazines, and bearing the title "The Spanish Story of the Armada, and Other Essays, Historical and Descriptive."

MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD has under way a new novel to be entitled "Old Kaskaskia." It is a story of life in Illinois at the beginning of this century, and takes its name from the old island of Kaskaskia, lying between the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers, which is being swallowed up at the rate of about six feet each day. The French records of the island date back to the end of the seventeenth century, and the story of this quaint spot will be woven into Mrs. Catherwood's new piece of fiction.

MRS. AMELIA E. BARR makes a serious charge against English syndicate managers. In a letter to the Epoch she says: "I have been greatly annoyed by English syndicates sending my work, sent them to sell in England, back to America, and trying to dispose of it here. Now, no work of mine which any English syndicate may offer for sale in this country is fresh work, and I would like all editors and the public to understand this. Only last week there was offered for sale in this country a story of mine which appeared in Harper's Magazine in 1876."

NEW YORK NEWSDEALERS AND STATIONERS CELEBRATE.

THE New York Newsdealers and Stationers' Protective and Benevolent Association was founded a year ago on the 16th inst. Its members met at the headquarters, No. 267 West Thirty-fourth St., New York, Tuesday evening, to celebrate the first anniversary of the organization. Besides newsdealers and stationers of New York City, there were present delegations of the trade from Brooklyn and Jersey City. J. Mack, the President of the Association, delivered an address, in which he spoke of the progress made by newsdealers and stationers during the last sixteen years. There were songs and recitations to enliven the meeting, and at 10 o'clock a supper was served.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

WITH the issue for March 11 The Epoch ceases to exist, or, rather, "will be merged and consolidated with Munsey's Magazine," and be published under that name monthly.

EX-POSTMASTER-GENERAL JAMES has written an article on "The Ocean Postal Service" for the April Century. Mr. James advocates a letter-rate of two cents an ounce for ocean postage, and a reduction in the rate on international money-orders. He thinks this reform more needed than that of a lower rate of postage on domestic letters.

RAITHBY, LAWRENCE & Co., of London, who have laid the British bookmaker, binder and printer under obligations by their excellent trade journals, have extended their enterprise by the publication of The Counting-House, a monthly journal devoted to business management, commercial education, shorthand, typewriting, the various details of business life, and the latest information regarding the different branches of commerce. The Counting-House is a well-printed magazine of 32 pages, edited by A. Arthur Reade, containing portraits and biographical sketches of leading commercial men; a full-page picture—wood-cut or "half-tone" engraving—of some artistic subject, interesting notes, and articles on industries and inventions of the commercial world. Prize competitions in shorthand and typewriting will be an interesting feature of later numbers.

BUSINESS NOTES.

NEW YORK CITY.—William Wood & Co. have removed their offices from 56 and 58 Lafayette Place to 43 to 47 East Tenth Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—The sheriff has sold out the stock of the Henry G. Allen Company, publisher, 739 Broadway, realizing $7000. The company is reorganizing.

NEW YORK CITY.—Lovell, Coryell & Co. have purchased from the United States Book Company the stock on hand and the right to publish the following series: Lovell's Standard Sets in cloth and fine bindings; Lovell's Oxford 12mos; Lovell's Standard 12mos; Lovell's Universal Series (cloth and half-calf); Lovell's copyright novels; Lovell's International Series (paper); Lovell's Westminster Series (paper); Lovell's Illustrated Series of American Novels (paper). The company, of which Mr. V. M. Coryell is President, has taken quarters at 43, 45 and 47 East Tenth Street, between University Place and Broadway, and expect to be in shape to do business about April 1, after which date they will fill orders for the above series. They will not, however, confine themselves to these series but will do a general publishing business.

NEW YORK CITY.—There is a report of the organization of a publishing company to issue standard 12mos at eight or nine cents a volume in cloth binding. The experiment is not a novel one, several having tried it and failed, much to the regret of their creditors. This proposed concern expects to begin with a paid-up cash capital of $150,000. In the meantime the publishers of 12mos now in the field are following Brer Rabbit's example—"lyin' low an' sayin' nuthin'"—and so there may be exciting times ahead.

SACRAMENTO, CAL.—N. J. O'Brien, bookseller, it is reported, has made an assignment.

PERSONAL NOTES.

MR. B. W. BOND, of the subscription department of the Century Company, leaves on the Etruria with his family on the 26th inst. for a three months' vacation in Europe.

WE regret to hear that Mr. Roswell Smith, President of the Century Company, is lying dangerously ill at his home, No. 24 East Fifty-first Street, New York, and that little hope is entertained of his recovery. Some time ago he was stricken with paralysis. He is now suffering from a second attack, which may have fatal effect.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE OPEN COURT PUBLISHING COMPANY has arranged with Prof. George J. Romanes to bring out the American edition of his latest work, "Darwin and After Darwin."

FREDERICK WARNE & Co. will shortly add to their Chandos Classics a three-volume edition of "The Diary and Letters of Madame D'Arblay (Frances Burney)," with notes by W. C. Ward, and prefaced by Lord Macaulay's essay.

AT the regular monthly meeting of the Stationers' Board of Trade, held on the 8th inst., George L. Pease tendered his resignation as President. No action was taken on the letter, but Edwin Young and Frank Squier were appointed as committee to nominate a President, Mr. Pease agreeing to act until his successor was elected.

RAND, McNALLY & Co. have just issued a large scale map of Indian and Oklahoma Territories, based chiefly on the surveys of the General Land Office, in which all towns, villages, streams, railways, forts and ranches are accurately located, and the different nations are designated by separate colors. The routes of mail lines, the number of trips per week, and the dates of treaties made with Indian nations are given. The military reservations are shown and Indian reservations accurately bounded, while the railway lines of the Territories and all the post-offices and stations in Oklahoma are given in detail.

GINN & Co. have gotten up a novelty, entitled "Cyr's Reading Slips," prepared by Mrs. Ellen M. Cyr, author of "The Children's Primer," also published by Ginn & Co. The slips are intended to be used in connection with that or any other first reading book. These "Reading Slips" are brought out in forty-eight manilla envelopes, each containing twenty slips of progressive difficulty. The new words given in each envelope are to be printed on the black-board; then the slips are to be distributed among the scholars, and each child is to study out and read its special slip. The interest awakened in the children and the concentration required from each child, it is thought, will insure better results than black-board instruction, when so many little minds may wander.

DETAILS of the remarkable scheme of two Western book agents reach us from Minneapolis. With the intention of placing a large number of copies of a cheap edition of the "Encyclopædia Britannica," they evolved a novel plan by which intending purchasers should receive the books absolutely free of charge, neither should any expense be incurred by the agents. Briefly, the plan was this: A certain number of merchants were to agree to give every person who consented to receive an Encyclopædia ten per cent. discount on all purchases. The sums thus discounted to be sufficient to cover in time the full price of the Encyclopædia, $101.50, and these discounts to be turned over to the book agents. By this system the customer received the book for nothing (!), the agents received their commissions and the price of the books, and the merchants received much experience and a trifle in the way of free advertising. It was argued that the increased trade secured would make up the ten per cent. discounts to the merchants, but after a little figuring the latter came to the conclusion that the system was rather one-sided, and the promoters of the scheme met with so cool a reception that they abandoned the field in disgust.

FRANK HEGGER, of 150 Broadway, N. Y., has just issued a most interesting volume, "Shepp's Photographs of the World," with the aid of which one may make a tour of the world in eighty minutes, visiting all points of interest on the globe, from Cheapside and the Strand to the Kabaldevie road in Bombay and the White House in Washington. This handsomely gotten up volume is 9 x 11 inches in size and contains 250 beautiful views reproduced from photographs, forming a consecutive panorama of the world as it would appear to-day to a traveller on a journey through its most famous scenes of interest. Explanatory notes accompany each view, and the tourist, remaining comfortably at home, travels eastward from Biarney Castle and the Lakes of Killarney; through the busy marts and historic scenes of Scotland and England; past the churches, cities and castles of the Continent; from the fjords of Norway to the ruined grandeur of Greece and the sleepy splendor of Eastern lands; and thence across the Pacific to the Golden Gate, and into our own continent. The finish and execution of the views are admirable, and the work is valuable not only for its artistic and historic interest, but for educational and reference purposes.

SWAN SONNENSCHN & Co. will add to their Young Collector series: "Book Collecting," by Mr. J. H. Slater; and "Postage Stamps," by Mr. W. T. Ogilvie.

THERE is to be brought out in England an In- ternational Series of Humor, each volume of which will be profusely illustrated. The humorists of most countries will be sought out.

The oldest Arabic dictionary after that of "Khalil, the Kitab al-Af'al" of Ibn al-Kutiyeh (who died in the year 967 A.D.), discovered in Sicily by the late Michels Amari, is going to be issued shortly at Beirut.

The great French-Swahili Dictionary, on the compilation of which Father Sacleux has been engaged many years, has recently left the press at Zanzibar. It fills upwards of a thousand pages in double columns.

G. GROTE, of Berlin, has recently issued the last part of the "Allgemeine Geschichte der Litteratur" ("Universal History of Literature"), by the distinguished critic and literary historian, Dr. Gustav Karpeles. The work, which consists of two portly volumes, gives in a most attractive form a connected survey of the world's literature from the earliest times down to our own days.

MR. HEINEMANN, London, has in preparation a series of the lives of Great Educators. The following volumes are so far contemplated: "Loyola, or, the educational system of the Jesuits," by the Rev. Thomas Hughes; "Aristotle, or, the ancient educational ideals," by Mr. Thomas Davidson; "Alcuin, or, the rise of the Christian schools," by Prof. Andrew F. West; "Abelard, or, the origin and early history of universities," by Prof. Jules Gabriel Compayre, of Toulouse; "Pestalozzi, or, the friend and student of children," by Mr. J. G. Fitch; "Froebel," by Mr. J. Courthope Bowen; and "Horace Mann, or, public education in the United States." The first two are nearly ready and will be issued shortly.

DR. M. A. STEIN, Principal of the Oriental College, Lahore, who has for the last three years been engaged on a critical edition of the "Râjatarangini" on the basis of ancient MSS. discovered by him in Kashmir, is now going to press with his work, which he proposes to divide into two parts. The first is to comprise the Sanskrit Text, critically revised and restored from the codex archetypus, together with full apparatus criticus. The second will bring an English Commentary on difficult passages, full notes on historical chronological and topographical matters, and complete indices. The first volume, about 320 pages royal quarto, will be issued in April next.

OUR NEXT BOOKS.

A Memoir of Honore de Balzac.

Compiled and written by KATHARINE PRESCOTT WORMELEY. With portrait, taken one hour after death, by Eugène Giraud, and a Sketch of the Prison of the Collège de Vendôme. 12mo, half russia, uniform with the "Novels," $1.50.

A complete life of Balzac can probably never be written. The object of this volume is to present Balzac to American readers, a presentation of the man, and not of his work, except as a part of himself, derived from authentic sources of information, with such simple elucidations as result from close intercourse with Balzac's mind. The portrait was considered by Madame de Balzac her husband's best likeness.

Poems by the Way.

Written by WILLIAM MORRIS. 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $1.25.

Modern Love.

A Reprint. To which is added: "The Sage Enamoured" and "The Honest Lady." A Book of Poems. By GEORGE MEREDITH. 16mo, cloth, $1.50.

"Powerful and dramatic, analytic to an almost intense degree, profoundly tragic and absorbingly interesting."—Literary World.

West Roxbury Sermons.

1837-1848. By THEODORE PARKER. Printed from unpublished manuscripts. With introduction and biographical sketch. 16mo, cloth, $1.00.

The Sermons cover the period from the beginning of his ministry at West Roxbury to the year following his settlement over the Music Hall congregation in Boston.

Last Days of Marie Antoinette.

By LORD RONALD GOWER. With portrait and fac-simile letter. New edition. Reduced in price. 12mo, bi-color cloth, $1.50.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

MESSRS. HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. take pleasure in announcing that they will publish immediately a

NEW EDITION OF

THE SCARLET LETTER.

By NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE.

The Universal Edition recently published is printed from beautiful large type and forms a handsome book for the library. In response to an urgent demand for this world-famous romance in a smaller, handier and still more inexpensive volume, the new edition now announced is brought out. It will be printed from smaller, but clear and legible type, in single column, on paper of excellent quality, and will be brought out in a noticeably pretty style of binding, with white back, full gilt, with chaste ornamentation, and the sides in scarlet, also stamped in gold, with an emblematic design. It will also be issued in a very attractive paper cover.

The price in cloth will be 30 cents; in paper, 15 cents.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO., Boston;
11 East 17th Street, New York.

"An admirable piece of work, and one which I shall find extremely useful."—W. E. FOSTER.

The Publishers' Trade List Annual.

This volume is indispensable to any one that has any interest in the purchase or sale of books. It contains:

1. An index to contributors and advertisers.
2. An index to special lines, giving important information as to where to find what is wanted.
3. Short-title list, with cross and subject references, of the books issued from January to July each year, forming a supplement to the "Annual Catalogue" of the year preceding the issue of the "Trade List Annual."
4. The Publishers' Trade Lists: These are the latest catalogues of American publishers, arranged alphabetically by the names of the publishers.
5. The Educational Catalogue: This priced catalogue, which is used by the entire trade and educational interest as the most complete and reliable reference-list of school-books, is arranged on the "dictionary plan," combining a finding-list for the trade and a subject-catalogue for the use of schools.

Large 8°, price $2.

A TRIP AROUND THE WORLD.

250 PHOTOGRAPHIC VIEWS
Handsomely bound in one volume, 9x11.

$5.00 in Cloth, $7.50 in Half Russia and $10.00 in Full Russia De Luxe.

Rev. Morgan Dix, D.D., Rector of Trinity Church, N. Y.: "I greatly admire this very beautiful volume, and it forms a most interesting study for the travelled and untravelled alike."

New York Herald: "The most remarkable and comprehensive volume of photographic views ever published. . . . No one, whether veteran tourist or 'stay-at-home traveller,' can look at this handsome book without longing to own it."

New York Tribune: "An admirable collection of uncommon interest and beauty. . . . With this book in hand 'arm-chair travel' is really possible, and many a lonely invalid may find in it endless delight and information."

The Evening Post: "It is a handsome volume illustrating a tour of the globe. The series of views is well selected, an attractive book for the centre-table, and contains many souvenirs for every tourist."

The Philadelphia North American: "In describing a foreign scene the photograph is mightier than the pen. This volume treats the eye as well as the mind to a trip around the world. It is a guide, souvenir and entertainer of a high order and gives the 'stay-at-home' a fund of information that almost equals that of the wealthiest tourist."

The Toronto Globe: "It is one of the most complete and admirable books ever published. It is an unfailing mine of interest and of information, and that it will find its way into many thousands of homes cannot be doubted."

The edition is 1250 copies only, and there will be no re-issue.

. . . "There is scarcely a bookseller in the country who would hesitate a moment to expend twenty-five dollars in advertising his stock; ought he to hesitate a moment about an expenditure that would enable him to sell hundreds of dollars' worth of books in a year? Such an investment would also purchase for him a reputation among his customers for intelligence and trade knowledge that would pay him five times over,"—A. D. F. RANDOLPH.

This work is indispensable to the bookstore or library.
